GETTING ACQUAINTED

"Stepping on the Gas"

The traction company courteously requests the public's "continued indulgence" to relieve the critical situation, and then in good old corporation style advances fares to 18c and commute books to $4.80.

To be consistent and fair, also to be "indulgent and co-operative," why not advance the carmen's wages in proportion, and improve the service which has been due the public these many years?

Public prejudice against transportation companies is often created by discrimination in fares, the county line to Richmond charge being an example, where the ride to San Leandro, 12 miles, is 6c and the fare to Richmond, 5 miles, is 12c, a condition that has caused daily rows and disputes between passengers and carmen, and turned many a prospective investor and homeseeker from Richmond to another locality.

The street car company now attempts to enjoin the motor busses from using the public thoroughfares, competition which it has brought upon itself by its arbitrary policy and foggy service.

There would be no bus line service between Richmond and Albany diverting travel via the S. P. electric to San Francisco, if the traction company operating between Richmond and Oakland had given the public service and pro rated the fares consistently with those of other eastbay communities.

San Francisco is a fair example of what happens when a traction company becomes arrogant and swollen. The motor bus may be the "medicine" to compel traction companies to also be "indulgent and co-operative" with the public. That would make it 50-50.

Figures Showing How We Have Grown

The bureau of Census has forwarded this newspaper a preliminary announcement of the population of Contra Costa county, the 14th census, subject to correction. The figures follow:

The population of Contra Costa county in 1900 was 18,046; in 1910, 31,674; in 1920, 53,889. Richmond in 1900, nothing; in 1910, 6802; in 1920, 16,843.

Richmond's population is far above 16,843. It is a conservative estimate that Richmond has 25,000.

Politics in "Low"

By "Gig" Martin

State Senator Will R. Sharkey will "make the grade" with ease. In fact, Sharkey has never had any opposition in this campaign. It is said that there is a candidate running against him from Marin. Why don't he "step on the gas."

James N. Long will have the "Long" end of it next Tuesday in the voting contest for assemblyman. Long has a good record, has served in many ways for the advancement of Richmond. He is especially fitted for the position of trust and honor for which he is a candidate. He will be an easy winner.

Bales and bales of white paper are being used for extolling the virtues of the candidates for U. S. senator. There is quite a field of them, and it will require an expert guesser to pick the winner. They are all good men, and if they would settle it by "cutting the cards," there would be no objection as to the result on the part of the public.

Cities Increase in Population

Albany Marin Avenue Methodist Church Changes Name; Will Serve Community in Broader Way

Members of the Marin Ave. M. E. church wish to announce that in the future this church will bear the name "Albany Community Church," which the church is owned by the Methodists. The present pastor, Verne C. Brown, will be retained. The church will seek to serve the community in a larger way by incorporating a real community spirit. We are are conscious of the fact that many Protestants of various denominations live in Albany, and that the church they may prefer is not located here.

Therefore, we shall endeavor to put put on such a program as will appeal to all Christian people. We feel that the church at large has caught a new vision of its opportunities and responsibilities in ministering not merely to a few, but to the whole community in which it is located. We enter into this new and enlarged program with the following purposes:

- First—To make the church a community center.
- Second—To develop the social and spiritual life of the community.
- Third—To emphasize the brotherhood of man.
- Fourth—To help our children and young people to become good Americans.
- Fifth—To win for our church this name "The Friendly Church."
- Sixth—To help all to a personal acquaintance of Christ, our Lord and Savior.

R. R. DEFICIT UNDER PRIVATE OWNERSHIP

First Six Months of 1920 Show $15,616,328 Shortage

Washington.—Trunk line railroads incurred a deficit of $15,616,328 on June operations, according to a preliminary report issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission. For the six months of 1920, including June, the reported net railway operating income at $13,664,120, against $154,930,908 in 1919. Increased wage charges, which the roads have been obliged to pay under the decision of the wage board, were included in a part of the mileage reported on, the Commission said, but it had not been ascertained for all the lines.

Gross operating revenue during June, the report said, was $480,949,000, while operating expenses were $464,965,000. The ratio of expenses to revenues was 96.7 per cent.

In addition, taxes totaled $3,469,000, while back wages due under the increase of the wage board amounted to $25,371,765.

Railroad operations in all districts except the Western contributed to the deficit, which, it is indicated, will be somewhat larger than reported when the full extent of the retroactive wage increase is felt. The Western district showed net operating income of $12,113,196, while the deficit in the Eastern district was $19,161,553, in the Southern district, $7,211,536, and in the Pocatontos district, a new subdivision created by the commission to apply the recent rate increase, the deficit was $1,356,434.

A note attached to the table says: "To compare earning power of roads in 1920 and 1919, it should be noted that corporate war taxes are not included in 1919 returns; that the revenue of all roads for six months of 1920 include approximately $50,000,000 back mail pay and that the increased wage accrual resulting from decision by the United States railroad labor board, retroactive to May 1, is incomplete." plete.

MAID SWIMS TROPICAL RIVER TO KEEP JUNGLE TRYST WITH MARINE

The dramatic personae in a real South Sea romance. Mrs. Gertrude Hornbostel, the heroine, above; Sergt. Hans Hornbostel, the hero, on the right; and Lieut. H. L. W. von Costenoble, the villain, on the left.

Mill Valley, Cal.—War, intrigue, love in the tropics, flight through the jungle, retribution, and finally an idyllic ending in the peaceful shores of California. These are the chapters in a Richard Harding Davis novel, but facts in a drama from life just come to light here, where the last act is being lived by two happy souls, and a disgruntled father on his way back to Germany after two years' internment.

Years ago only a few miles apart on the Elbe in North Germany were born Hans Hornbostel, whose parents were visiting their old home at the time, and Gertrude von Costenoble, daughter of a Lieutenant in the Prussian army. The young hero came west to America and the family settled in New York, his brother, Henry F. Hornbostel, becoming one of America's leading architects, and Hans a U. S. Marine.

The heroine went East. Her father, losing his money, resigned from the German army and took his family to Guam, where he founded the Commercial Company, at Agaña, the capital. His big stone house became the center of German commercial, social and diplomatic activities.

America entered the war and Hornbostel was sent to Guam under Capt. Earl Ellis, becoming assistant to the intelligence officer in the island.

The big stone house continued to be the gathering place of rich Germans, and nightly the walls resounded with toasts to the Kaiser. Ellis told Hornbostel his suspicions that von Costenoble was the representative of the Imperial German Government, and instructed him to get the facts. Because he could speak German he was told to become acquainted with the family. The young Marine got the facts, but he lost his heart, and he and Gertrude secretly plighted their troth.

The father, fearing his daughter was in love with a non-commissioned officer in the hated American service, took her from the city to his plantation, and placed a native guard to watch her. Her simple native dress was her only wardrobe. But young Lochinvar was daunted, and a secret trysting place was arranged at a shrine near the river. Hearing that her father intended to put her aboard a Japanese schooner in the harbor and send her away, she and her lover arranged an elopement. At an old tamarind tree they were to meet, and escape to the town and be married.

She was delayed, but dashing away from her attendant Gertrude swam a half mile down the river where, dripping and exhausted, she met her swain waiting with auto and native driver.

Costenoble was enraged and pursued them in a bull cart, but love was swifter, and the pair soon arrived in Agaña, where the Marines had decorated the church in Cadena de Amor, a flower of heart shaped blossoms, and the Rev. A. W. Logan, the Methodist missionary, performed the ceremony.

Into the jungle in a buckboard for several weeks went the honeymooners, while Costenoble hunted them with his pistol. On their return, Hornbostel arrested his father-in-law on information he had secured in America. While his father-in-law was cooling his anger in his new stone house, the Federal prison on Alcatraz Island in San Francisco Bay, Sergeant Hornbostel, now stationed in San Francisco, passed him daily back and forth from his little bungalow in the redwoods of Mill Valley, their home.

He is now en route to Germany after his release. Down in Guam the old stone mansion is turned into the Marine Band headquarters, and the walls that used to echo to the martial strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," and in the Hornbostel home is a baby son who already lisps that when he grows up he'll be, like his mother, German in blood but American in loyalty, and like his father, to the U. S. A., "Semper Paratus." The Sergeant is now stationed at the Marine Recruiting Station, 320 Market Street, San Francisco.

PROHIBITION DOES NOT WORRY THE VIRGINIA MOUNTAIN FOLKS

Lexington, Va.—It has not been many days since a traveling man of this city was making his way through the hills and dales of Floyd county, where "moonshine" has been made as a matter of right, as the natives declare, for many years. Seeing a lank mountaineer cutting wood near the road, the traveler stopped, delighted at the sight of a fellow-man. They chatted for a while.

"What do the people up this way think of the prohibition question?" asked the traveler.

"W-a-l, not so much that mout be considered good," said the lanky and hard-handed mountaineer.

"Well, you know that the legislature and congress have passed a law saying that no liquor shall be made, sold, given away, offered for sale or served to any person whatsoever."

"Be that so?" queried the mountaineer, letting up in his woodchopping and taking a squint at the stranger. "W-a-l, now, is that so? When does they calculate fer that to begin?"

Metson, San Francisco attorney and capitalist, was accompanied by R. A. Thompson Jr., Clinton Francis Parker and W. H. Horstman, University of California students, at the time of the accident. A coroner's jury held Metson responsible for Petersen's death at an inquest held May 19. The jury balotted five hours without arriving at a verdict. The jury is said to have stood 11 to 1 for acquittal during its deliberations. After five hours of deliberation the jury was locked up for the night at the Hotel Oakland. A single ballot the following morning resulted in a verdict of acquittal. The specific charge against Metson was that he failed to stop and give aid to the injured after an automobile accident. In the same accident in which Petersen met death, Miss Anna Jensen, Petersen's companion, was severely injured.

SCHOOL DAYS

THE DROUTH

THE Drouth is a long, dry spell followed by a series of sharp explosions in the wheat pit. It is also followed by the agonized accents of the rural speculator who invested somebody else's money and was promptly punctured while reading up on the baseball scores.

The Drouth is caused by a total absence of rain in places where a little would go a long way. One of the strange and inscrutable mysteries of this fleeting life below is why the rain should fall with such fervor and exuberance in the spring of the year, when everybody wants to plant corn or try out a new automobile, and then as soon as summer opens up withdraw from the immediate vicinity and allow everything to dry up but the political orator. In the spring it is harder to head off a soaking rain than

Not enough rain will fall to properly water one perspiring citizen.

It is to discourage a visiting collector who is accustomed to speak without notes or memory, but just as soon as hot weather sets in and raises large, tumorous blisters on the common people not enough rain will fall to properly water one perspiring citizen.

A Drouth which has not been advertised in advance is a big asset to successful gambling on the price of December corn, wheat and other breakfast foods. Many a man has bought a few million bushels of No. 1 wheat long before it began to peep shyly from the ground, in the hope that a double-gear Drouth would cause it to wither from the ankles up, and has been gratified to such an extent that he could pay his barber bill for the first time since his marriage. Thousands of men who bet on the price of wheat, however, are now living in peaceful seclusion at the expense of an industrious father-in-law, the ratio of plungers who beat the game being about the same as that which holds good in bucking a slot machine.

The Drouth is a very uncomfortable article to live with, but it is easier to get along with than some people, for which let us give thanks.

Last Night's Dreams

—What They Mean

HORSES

ACCORDING to the oracles of Delphi, Jupiter Amun and Dodona, to Shinn Mares and the lesser magicians of modern times who unlock the future for a dollar a peep, to dream of a horse is good luck. Preferably a white horse should be dreamed of, for that announces to the dreamer unexpected riches. If your horse is black your good fortune will not be so great or so complete as it will be if he is white. The intermediate grades of color denote the amount of your good fortune.

To see yourself riding a horse—preferably a large, bony one—means success. If a woman dreams that she is riding on a large, showy horse, it indicates that the fates have picked out for her—provided she is an unmarried woman of course—a rich husband who will make her happy. But for anyone to dream that he or she is riding a horse is a sign that he or she is about to rise a step higher in the world. But don't fall off. If you do some misfortune is in store for you. None, perhaps, that you will not be able to surmount, for the general beneficent effect of dream horses is so potent that even a fall from one will not be an irreparable misfortune. To dream that you are trading horses foretells that someone is going to get the best of you in a bargain—which would indicate that horse trades run true to form in the world of dreams as well as in the world of actualities. To dream that you are buying a horse is a sign that you are about to be sold a horse that you are selling a horse don't speculate—you will lose. If your dream horse is positive it means that you have much hard work to go through before you achieve the success which your dreaming of him foretells. The dream horse, it should be distinctly understood, is no relation to the nightmare whatever.

Not enough rain will fall to properly water one perspiring citizen.

It is to discourage a visiting collector who is accustomed to speak without notes or memory, but just as soon as hot weather sets in and raises large, tumorous blisters on the common people not enough rain will fall to properly water one perspiring citizen.

There exists in New York City a store for men that, because of its appeal to particular tastes and styles, has built up a name for "Class" in its line. Recently, because of this reputation, a young man, new to the city, went into their establishment and ordered half a dozen of their shirts. The salesman represented the goods to be the best of their kind and "warranted" them to be as represented. One of the shirts proved defective. The young man sought an adjustment. He received for his trouble a bundle of cold excuses. The store sent away a dissatisfied customer—the worst advertisement in the world.

Mind the trifles! There exists in Chicago another kind of store that is known wherever merchandising is known. It is the greatest store of its kind in the world. Here is one of the reasons for its marvelous success. In this store a clerk is not allowed to dispute with a customer. If there is dissatisfaction, and it appears reasonable to the clerk, an immediate adjustment is made even though it may mean a loss to the concern. Trifles—yes, trifles—but the attention to them paves the way to wealth, influence and power. Mind the trifles!

CARMEL MYERS

After an absence from the screen for some eighteen months, Carmel Myers who has been appearing in the legitimate again has been attracted by the clicking of the camera and the clever little "movie" star is appearing in pictures, to the delight of her many admirers.

NO CHANCE.
I see, upon a printed slip,
On my hotel room door,
What would be the use of it
Nor pay my little score.
But nowhere in that quoted law,
As I can see, b'ling,
I'm told to but that melancholy jaw
When he inserts his sting.
It does not promise if the food
Is quite unfit to eat,
I straight may pronounce that robber,
With willing flats and feet.
It does not promise if the bed
Is harder than the pave,
That I may swat him over the head
And fit him for his grave.
It does not say that when the clerk
Deceives me as to trains,
I am to smash him in the smirch
For being shy of brains.
No, all the law is, to Protect the hotel man,
The traveler's rights are mighty few—
He's scarce an alpo-ran!

The Gadfly.
Some people think the gadfly is a real insect.
The one we mean is the germ of god, that stings everybody more or less.
There are very few people in whose ears the gadfly has not been punctured by his little probe.
"Travel is something people are supposed to do for pleasure.
If some of the people we see traveling are doing so as a pleasant diversion from their regular life, we'd hate to board with them when they are home.
There are many day-coach pilgrims who carry a paper bag or a laundry-poke full of bananas, embalmers, doughnuts, jelly sandwiches and dill pickles from Passamaquoddy bay to the Golden Gate, drinking milky coffee in tubs on the slightest provocation, sleeping with their clothes on (except their shoes) every night, and talking at the top of their voices every time they wake, taking care of eight small children that were born in a bogey; there are people who do this for fun!
It looks almost as funny to us as going and getting inoculated with a hell just to have it nurse.
A person who could enjoy that sort of travel would be tickled to death with the toothache.
While a trip to the dentist's to have a jaw-feller yanked out would be the treat of a lifetime.
But everybody wants to "go somewhere."
The whole human race are busy little cups of tea.
The lazy ones want to ride, of course, but they all want to go.
The first thing a baby learns is "doe-by-by."
The last thing the old tottery one wants to do is to get strong enough to be taken somewhere.
We are all charter members of the Tribe of Gad.
The gadfly didn't miss one of us when he was around using his stinger.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK. UGH!

"Dodson's Liver Tone" better than calomel and can not salivate.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quick silver. Calomel is dangerous. I crashe into sour bile like dynamite cramping and sickening you. Calomel cracks the bones and should never be put into you.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that you druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv

SCIENTISTS HELPING BLUEBERRY INDUSTRY
New Jersey Grower Obtains Most Luscious Berries.

Instantly of What Is Being Done Commercially by Men Who Utilize Information Given Out by Department of Agriculture.

Luscious blueberries—many of which are three-fourths of an inch in diameter—that sell for $10 a bushel! Such is the product secured by a New Jersey grower, whose principal business has been growing cranberries but who more recently took up the cultivation of blueberries. At present he has 20 acres which he planted, in part, with carefully selected wild blueberry stock and, in part, with hybrids furnished by the bureau of plant industry of the United States department of agriculture.

Not only are the berries on this tract of very high quality but the yield is prolific, the older plants producing at the rate of nearly 100 bushels to the acre. The plantation is situated at Witeabog, near Browns Mills.

The success of this grower is but one instance of what is being done commercially by men who are utilizing the information supplied by the department of agriculture scientists. The latter have made a study of blueberry culture for several years, and are able to furnish data regarding the best varieties and the most suitable soils. Of particular significance is the fact that blueberries thrive best on peat and sand soils, so acid as to be considered worthless for ordinary agriculture. Thus through blueberry culture it is possible to utilize many tracts which have been regarded as especially hard and unpromising.

FEEDING TROUGH FOR SWINE
Farmer Can Pour Slops Into Rectacle Without Having Pigs Climbing His Legs.

The feeder can pour slops into this trough without having an earnest and overhanging litter of pigs climbing his boot legs and spilling the feed from the bucket. It extends possibly a foot on the outside of the pen and makes feeding easy and simple. The two up-

ALL STOCK LIKE SOY BEANS
Crop Takes No More Moisture When Planted With Corn Than Do Weeds—Leaves Make Silage.
Soy beans take no more moisture when planted with corn than do weeds and the leaves make rich silage. The labor of caring for soy beans with corn is no greater than for corn alone. Properly cured, the crop is relished by all stock.

RAPE EXCELLENT FOR SWINE
Leaves Contain High Percentage of Protein—Little Tankage Needed to Balance Ration.
Leaves of rape are high in percentage of protein to dry matter, and pig fed corn or barley or rape pasture do not need more than one-twentieth tankage or its equivalent in oilmeal, buttermilk or skim milk to balance the grain.

VARIETY OF FOOD FOR HENS
Fowls Easily Obtain Different Things Necessary to Make Eggs and Maintain Body.
Constantly feeding one or two grains only compels the fowls to eat more than they ought to and make their digestive systems work too hard trying to get all the different food elements in sufficient quantity out of this material. By feeding a variety of food the fowls are not obliged to consume so great an amount and they can more easily obtain the different things required to maintain the body and make eggs.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR WORMS
Give Twenty Drops of Turpentine in Milk or Water and Mix in Mash for Morning Feed.
For worms in poultry give 20 drops of turpentine for each 12 adult chickens; less for smaller chicks. Put that amount in one quart of milk or water; mix in mash in morning. No other feed; also put one teaspoonful of copperas in each gallon of drinking water.

DOULTRY NOTES
Don't overstock your land.
Spade up the yard frequently.
Get rid of all surplus cockerels.
Feed table scraps and kitchen waste.
Keep the hens confined to your own land.
Fowls stand cold better than dampness.
The growing turkeys will not consume a great deal of grain.
Poultry houses need not be warmed, but they must be comfortable and dry.
Geese are raised for their flesh and for their feathers, never for their eggs.

ANTI-JAPANESE MEASURE SURE TO CARRY IN STATE

Senator J. M. Inman, president of the California Oriental League, declares that the recent investigation of the Japanese question in California by the Congressional Committee on Immigration and Naturalization was an "eye opener" to the committee. The investigation was ocular proof that the Orientals cannot be assimilated with our people. It was made clear to the committee that the Jap is a menace, and should not be allowed to get possession of the most productive lands of California.

President Inman, who directed the circulation of the initiative petitions placing the anti-Japanese land measure on the November ballot, is sound in his reasoning on this important question, and the November election will prove that the people of California have taken heed, and are almost unanimously in favor of the exclusion of unassimilable races, and especially the Jap, who is degrading labor and hogging the cream of the State's agricultural lands.

SOME GOOD SUGGESTIONS FROM THE SOUTH

Mrs. Berthold Baruch of Los Angeles in referring to the Wilson League of Nations as a second "immaculate conception" says:

"The aftermath of war has harvested a full crop of misunderstanding. We need a complete change of thought. There has been too much sentimentalism, too much bigotry, a growing religious prejudice, intellectual snobbery, intolerance and bias of all kinds. The tidal wave of altruism has swept the country to the point of nausea. What we want are good, safe, sane business methods—all American; freedom of speech and of the press; honest efforts to reduce taxation and high prices. These things will bring infinite comfort to our citizens."

If the initiative is to be sacrificed to defeat the efforts of single taxers to get their measure on the ballot, then the initiative has lost its usefulness and is a dead letter. The initiative is too essential in protecting our constitution to be weakened or lost by a government supposed to exist by means of the ballot and not by discriminating against those who may be honest in their convictions and who are striving to improve our system of government.

Iowa will follow Kansas in enacting an industrial court law to settle labor troubles. Senator Cummins who sought to put a compulsory clause against strikes in the railroad law is renominated. For this he was fought by radical labor leaders, but the fact that he carried by an enlarged vote the union labor centers and received a tremendous commendation from the farmers, indicate that the trend of sentiment in Iowa is similar to that in Kansas.

A $600,000,000 wage increase granted railroad workers will be passed on to the public in the form of increased passenger and freight rates. There is just one way in which the country as a whole can get value for its additional expenditure and that is for the railroad workers to show their appreciation by an increase in efficiency. The cost of living can never go down as long as wages remain high unless those receiving the wages produce more.

Spencer of Oakland, son of Mrs. Belshaw and administrator of her estate, to Julius Young of San Francisco for $10,000. The jewelry had been appraised at $9600.
